Thrush Aircraft Announces New Hire for Sales, Marketing, Training and Support.

ALBANY – GEORGIA – Thrush Aircraft is pleased to announce that Terry Humphrey has joined the organization.

Mr. Humphrey joins Thrush Aircraft in the position of sales and marketing, and will be supporting Thrush Aircraft to grow and support distributors and service centers around the world.

In his career of 30+ years in ag aviation, Mr. Humphrey has specialized in building client relationships, developing new business and supporting operations. Most recently, Mr. Humphrey was flying for the past ten years for the U.S. Department of State Air Wing in Colombia.

Terry Humphrey states, "I am thrilled to be a part of the Thrush Aircraft team. What attracted me to Thrush Aircraft was its leadership and the high quality aircraft currently manufactured. My entire career has been spent in ag aviation and I look forward to supporting current and future Thrush Aircraft customers."

"Terry Humphrey is an enormous asset to the Thrush Aircraft team," said Thrush Aircraft President, Payne Hughes. "Terry brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to Thrush Aircraft. His experience and knowledge of the industry will support Thrush Aircraft goal to serve the needs of our customers."

About Thrush Aircraft Company

Headquartered in Albany, Georgia, Thrush Aircraft manufactures a full range of aerial application aircraft used in agriculture, forestry and fire fighting roles worldwide. Founded in 2003, Thrush is well-known for building the most durable aircraft in the aerial application industry, as well as the best flying – from both pilot and operator perspectives. All Thrush models provide superb visibility, light control response, and a high degree of maneuverability and speed, along with superior efficiency and low direct operating costs. Today there are more than 2,200 Thrush aircraft operating in some 80 countries around the world.
